READ THE GUARDIAN.

J. B. Hayes of Pima, spent several days in town this week.

Mrs. H. L. Smith, of Solomonsville, has been quite ill this week.

Deputy Sheriff Smith was in town several times last week on official business.

It required a double header to pull the cattle train from here to Bowie last Tuesday.

Wm. Birchfield started for Deming last Tuesday morning to pay a two week's visit to his parents, at that place.

Capt. Meyers, the Indian agent at San Carlos was in town this week and bought 50,000 pounds of flour from John Blake & Co. for the agency.

T. T. Hunters, 4-6-1f

Last Friday night a stroke of lightning struck a straw stack owned by E. P. Bryce. The stack was burned up as well as a large quantity of wheat, which had been sacked and piled up near the stack.

In another column will be found a new advertisement for Jennings & Gray. They are advertising a bargain sale and it will pay you to call and examine their goods.
They will do just what they advertise.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the ad. of the Safford Meat Market. You can get fresh beef, mutton, pork, butter and eggs every day. They will also run a delivery wagon each morning as far as Thatcher.

J. T. Owens has just received his mammoth stock of dry goods which he is going to sell cheap for cash. Call at the Blue Store and examine the goods and convince yourself of their superiority.

Solomon & Wicksham have arranged to have a representative of their wholesale mercantile establishment make a tour of the valley every two weeks. This firm is able to sell to retail merchants at rates just as reasonable as can be obtained either east or west.

H. Weech, of Pima was in town last Monday. Mr. Weech has just returned from Camp Columbine, where he has spent the last six weeks, and he expects to return tomorrow to spend another month.
He says Camp Columbine is the most delightful summer resort in the Territory. It is located on the summit of Mt. Graham, where it is delightfully cool during the hottest months in the valley, where game is plentiful, and all kinds of grasses and timber abound.

John M. See, the man who brutally murdered his wife in Tonto Basin in 1892, has been located in Oklahoma by Sheriff Thompson, of Gila Co., and requisition papers have been issued and the brute See is no doubt in the custody of that officer now. Great credit is due Sheriff Thompson and deputy Sheriff Creswell for this capture. Although the crime was committed three years ago and the murderer escaped these officers have constantly been on the lookout for him and finally located him in Oklahoma.

Larry McCourt has returned from his native soil to the land of his adoption. Larry says Ireland is a good country but it is not Arizona.
He spent considerable money on an old chap, on the other side of the pond, getting him filled up with whiskey. He wanted to see if a man would see the same kind of snakes in Ireland as he would in Arizona. Larry was very much disappointed however, as the snakes he saw were not half as many in number nor half the size they would have been had the old fellow been in Arizona.

I have just received my fall and winter stock of men's and boy's ready made clothing that I will sell cheap for cash. I have 100 suits of all styles and patterns.
Come quick and take your choice at J. T. Owens store, Safford. 8-16-tf.

In this issue will be found the new ad. of John Blake & Co., proprietors of the Safford Roller Flouring mills. This firm is always prepared to furnish all kinds of mill stuff at reasonable rates, and their Belle of '95 & xxxxx flour have no superior. They are also dealers in general merchandise, the store being located across the street from the mill. They handle California redwood finishing and ceiling lumber, also Oregon and Puget Sound flooring and sugar pine lumber. They will furnish plans, specifications and estimates of buildings.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Amount of Money Needed to Maintain School the Proper Length of Time.

The County School Superintendent asks for $14,700 for school purposes for the present school year. With this amount each district can maintain school eight months, and, with eight months schooling our children will receive great benefit. Heretofore many districts maintained school but five months and the other seven months children ran at large.

In this new country parents have to work so hard and continually that the home education is neglected. This necessitates a greater interest being taken in selecting teachers and prolonging the school term.

Let our Supervisors economize in every particular, but to cut short our school fund is poor economy. Our boards of trustees should understand too, that the law does not intend that they use this fund for building school houses and paying back debts. If your district is in debt or you need a new school house the law intends you to levy a district tax to meet these wants.

The following estimate of the money needed has been made by Superintendent Cluff and submitted to the Board, which is based upon the average attendance of the previous year.

FORT THOMAS.

Several hundred head of cattle were placed on the cars and shipped east last Tuesday morning, and there were quite a number of cow ladders in town from all over the country.

Hon. Burt Dunlap and Mike Ohi were here a day or two this week. For the past week the wind has blown a perfect storm of dust and sand, and the sun has almost cooked the town. Hotter weather has never been experienced here than we have had the past week.
Quite a number of wells are going dry and have to be constantly cleaned out to keep water in them.

Business seems to be in a fair condition here. D. H. Ming continues to display new stock and receives a fair share of trade. Alexander Bros. are also doing a neat trade, and are fast going to the front.

Under Sheriff H. L. Smith was here last week with his inside pocket filled with mysterious looking documents, and rumor had it that he was on a hot trail after delinquent taxes. Judge Goodwin accompanied the Under Sheriff on his trip.

M. A. Leahy is the proud owner of a matched team of dark roan horses, and he may be seen every evening speeding them along Railroad avenue at a 3m. gate.

Deputy Sheriff Alexander killed two coal-black, timber wolves on Saturday last. They had nearly cleaned out the chicken crop in town before he got them. He used a No. 10 gauge shot gun and almost blew them from the face of the earth.

John Parker, who has been located in town for the past seven months is preparing to move his saloon down to the old McGuiness building in the post. Homer Da-boise has accepted a position behind his bar and twirls the shining cocktail spoon just like an expert.

Mesa marvelously escaped total annihilation by fire Wednesday evening during the wind storm.
During the afternoon a small pile of rubbish had been burned in the rear of the Golden Rule and when the fire was supposed to be out no attention was paid to it. When the wind came up however some of the embers were carried to a shed near by and when discovered the shed was enveloped in flames and the trash surrounding it was ablaze.
Buckets, hose and fire extinguishers were brought into requisition and vigorously used. Don Le-Beron did effective work with his soda tank. The wind carried the sparks and sinners in every direction and it was almost miraculous that the Co-Op grain and hay ware house and other close-by structures did not take fire.—Free Press.

Thursday evening the citizens of St. Johns, were treated to about two hours of horror. A rider from the big reservoir six miles above town, brought word that the dam had broken and the water would be upon us, this about half after ten and every one nearly had retired, all those living along the banks of the river were aroused and were lined up and down the creek, awaiting the catastrophe. The river rose at the rate of an inch a minute, and was soon lapping the top of the bridge, but fortunately for that structure, about this time it began to subside. We learned in the morning that the dam had not broken, but a water spout had burst about a mile or so from the dam.—St. Johns Herald.

—JO—

A fifteen-year-old boy named Juan Romero, at the Blythe ranch on the Colorado, lassoed a mountain lion recently. He was out with his riata looking for a horse when a mountain lion attacked his dog.
He had no weapon but the rope, and throwing it lassoed the lion around the neck. Hauling it tight it began to choke the infuriated animal, which began to jump and struggle to get away, the boy all the time hauling with all his might on the lariat. In one of the wild plunges made by the lion he jumped into the air, coming down behind a stout mesquite bush, but not low enough so that he could touch the ground. The boy held on to his end, with the lion suspended in the air, until the fierce brute was dead, having hanged himself. The boy took off the skin, which measured nine feet from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail.—Cocoino Sun.

Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting was held in the Academy building at Thatcher, on the evening of August 15th 1895 for the purpose of taking measures to guard against the ravages of mad dogs.

J. A. Woods was called to the chair and John Hill Jr. was chosen as secretary. The Chairman stated the object of the meeting, and called on those present to express their views on the subject. On motion the Chair appointed a committee of three viz. W. D. Johnson, J. G.
Allred and R. A. Allred to draft a preamble and resolutions expressing the sentiment of the people on the subject, the committee retired and in a few minutes reported the following, which was unanimously adopted. Whereas hydrophobia is developing to an alarming extent in this and other settlements in the valley, and realizing that some action should be taken in the matter, we, the citizens of Thatcher, in mass meeting assembled, (in the absence of any statutory provision to meet the emergency that now confronts us) adopt the following:

Resolved that it is the expression of this meeting that every person owning a dog or dogs in this precinct, be required to keep them tied up, from and after the date of this meeting until the 30th day of September next, and any and all persons in this precinct are hereby authorized to kill all dogs found roving at large between the dates above given.

Resolved further that the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the GUARDIAN for publication in its next issue.

THATCHER ARIZ. Aug. 15th 1895.

BURIED TREASURE.

Being Sought for on the Top of Mt. Graham.
The Los Angeles Times gives the following history of the buried treasure now being sought for by B. B. Adams, Henry Dowdle and Pedro Michelena:

They have in their possession an old document, in seventeenth-century Spanish that is supposed to tell all about the treasure. It is all a very pretty story, even if the treasure doesn't happen to materialize. The story is, that in the early seventeen hundreds what was then Northern Sonora, embracing what is now California, Arizona and New Mexico was infested by a very daring band of freebooters. They robbed caravans, ranches and mines and amassed doubloons, bullion and jewelry in immense quantities.
This wealth they secreted on the peak of one of the biggest mountains in the center of the vast region where they held sway. That mountain was known as Bonita Peak, one of the wildest and grandest of spots. Their last expedition was to the southward, in what is the Sonora today. Here they had a battle with the military and were all killed except one, who was badly wounded. He escaped to the ranch of an old dona and was cared for by the woman. She dressed his wounds and secreted him, thereby gaining his intense gratitude. Her nursing was unavailing, however, and he grew worse. Realizing that he must soon die he informed the old lady of his treasure. It was cached, he said, on the top of Bonita Peak, in the mountains far to the northward. There she would find all the treasures amassed by the band. All were dead and he was dying, and it should be hers, in return for her services to a fleeing and wounded man. The record was laid aside by the old lady, and she went on with her ministrations.
The robber died. The old lady, a true type of the land of the manana, thought little more of her treasure.
She made no effort to find the wonderful Bonita Peak. The paper was handed down through the centuries, and not until several years ago did it reach any one hardy enough to go in search of the treasure to the northward. About three years ago, in the dead of winter, two men came to Solomonsville.
They said little of their business, but soon left for parts unknown.
In a week or two they returned.
One of the men departed and the other almost died of pneumonia.
The two were treasure-seekers and had been in search of the doubt-loons of the robbers. They had a paper that described the location.
It was at the top of Bonita Peak, where three great rocks made the form of a cross. At the foot of each of these three rocks the treasure trove was cached, Bonita Peak it seems, is the earlier name of what is known today as Mt. Graham.
Hither the two treasure seekers had gone when the snow on the peak—the elevation being over 10, 000 feet—was four to ten feet deep.
The record passed into the hands of the present seekers. They are now engaged with pick and shovel industriously turning over the surface of grand old Graham. If they do not happen to find any treasure they will still be ahead a pleasant picnic, for the weather up there is cool, the shade thick and the supply of "snake-bite" and "grub" bounteous.

Accidentally Shot.

Last Saturday Heber Bryce received a very serious but not necessarily fatal gun shot wound. He had been handling the pistol and had placed it in the scabbard and was in the act of putting it away when it fell, and it is supposed struck on the hammer which caused the cartridge to explode.

The ball entered the body just below the sixth rib on the left side and made its exit through the shoulder blade, tearing away a portion of that bone.

Dr. Wightman was summoned and dressed the wound and rendered the patient as comfortable as possible. The accident happened at the town of Bryce.

PATRICK SULLIVAN.

One of Safford's Most Enterprising Citizens Died Last Friday Night.

DEATH CAUSED BY APPOPLEXY.

He Had Scarcely Reached His Bed When He Had a Suffocating Sensation—Death Came in the Short Space of Ten Minutes.

"In the midst of life we are in death." This fact was fully demonstrated last Friday night when Mr. Patrick Sullivan, one of Safford's representative citizens, in the short space of ten minutes was called to join the silent majority.
Mr. Sullivan, from about dusk, on the night of his death, until about half after nine o'clock, was sitting on his porch surrounded by the members of his family, speaking of the many advantages offered in Safford; finally the conversation drifted towards the improvements he had made to his residence, and he made the remark that he had just completed, that very day, all the necessary improvements around his house and expected to spend many happy years in his cozy home. About half after nine the family retired for the night, each going to their different apartments, excepting Mr. Sullivan, who remained to take his usual evening bath, after which he also went to his room. Scarcely had he lain down when he said to Mrs. Sullivan that he had a sensation as if suffocating and that he must have more air. He was immediately assisted to the window by his wife whom he told to give him brandy and chafe his hands as he felt numb. Being somewhat frightened, Mrs. Sullivan called Mr. French and wife to her assistance but before they could reach his side the soul of Mr. Sullivan had fled. The suddenness of death among the party, who, but a short time before had all been together in the best of spirits, and apparently the best of health, could scarcely be realized and Dr. Chas. H. Porter was immediately summoned and informed the sorrowing family that he was indeed beyond recall and that death was caused by apoplexy.

Patrick Sullivan was born in Ireland in the year 1843 and came to Manchester, N. H. in 1846 with his parents. He never attended school after attaining the age of nine years, but by his own application became not only a thorough business man, but one well versed on the questions of the hour. When but thirteen years of age he left his home and went to sea where he remained until the civil war broke out. Feeling that his country needed his services he enlisted in the U. S. navy, where he served four years, after which he returned to Manchester and served an apprenticeship at the tinners trade, engaging in the hardware business immediately after he became a journeyman. About sixteen years ago he went to California and was employed as traveling salesman for the Osborne machine company, which position he filled so acceptably that he won a high reputation with his employers who considered him one of their ablest agents. On the first of last April he entered a co-partnership with Mr. N. P. Beebe, at this place, and dealt extensively in the Osborne machinery, and also carried on a real estate agency until the time of his death.

About eight years ago Mr. Sullivan passed through this valley and was so impressed with its advantages that he at once decided to make it his future home. He commenced buying land here about three years ago, and during his permanent residence in our midst had won the highest respect and esteem as a citizen and a man. Characteristic of Mr. Sullivan was an exceedingly strong mind; he believed that Safford would be a large town in due time and had expressed himself that he would remain even if everyone else left.

His kindness to his family was remarkable, being a loving and devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father.

Those who survive the deceased are a wife, a brother, Jeremiah J., residing in California; a sister, Mrs. Mary Ridge, Portsmouth, N.

H.; three children, John C., Nellie F., and Edward J.

The funeral services were held the following day at 11 o'clock a. m., Rev. D. Roberts officiating.
The interment was made in the Safford cemetery. The pall bearers were: P. J. Jacobson, C. Madson, Andrew Blake, J. M. McCollum, T. T. Hunter and Peter Anderson.

Mrs. Sullivan will shortly leave for California for several months in order to be absent from the scenes of her great grief.

The GUARDIAN extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.
